BAD FIFTH INNING COST W.VA. GAME

Printer Ball Players Had Railroaders Beaten Up to That Point.

Leading by a 7-3 score, the West Virginian team went up in the air and at the same time went down after the last place in the City league, when in the fifth inning of last night's game, the B. & O. scored five times and moved ahead of them by just one run for the final count of 8-7.

The printers scored three runs in the first inning coming back in the second with two more runs, making the score 5-1 in the second inning. Each team scored two more runs in the third and fourth innings and in the fifth frame the B. & O. bunched their hits and with a series of errors, moved ahead by one run.

Parker on the mound for the West Virginian pitched a splendid game, suppressing the B. & O. twirler, was advisedly taken from the mound in the fifth inning, giving way to Mills, who pitched a much better game and held the printers scoreless the rest of the game.

"Sandy" Toothman was umpire and was never questioned concerning any of his decisions. The score:

Sport Chatter

By The Onlooker.

All together now: Three cheers for the B. & O. They are all good players.

But can you imagine our Charlie (Redie) smearing the pill for a three sacker the first time at bat?

Hal Chase is going to have a great competition next year with our Charlie in the game.

Defeats are costly. One West Virginian player spoiled a $40 suit in the 34-2 game and last night another of our players tore about a $27.89 piece out of his $30 street suit.

Nevertheless the W. Va. team is still in the league. As one member of the team said last night: "In the cellar again, Charlie. We feel natural now."

At that the cellar is a pretty good place to be these days with all the prohibitions in full swing.

Shoudt, B. & O. backstop, was at bat three times and got three hits, one of these for two bases.

Better get in those "Y" swimming classes early.

F.H.S. CLASSES TO PLAY CROWD BALL

This afternoon at South Side park beginning at 2:30 p. m. there will be a "crowd ball" contest between the various classes of the high school. Originally it was planned to have a push ball contest, but due to the fact that no push ball was available it was decided to change the contest into a "crowd ball" affair.

For a game of crowd ball, it is necessary to have the field laid out somewhat similar to that for a football game. With a team on each side of the field the crowd ball which is about four times the size of an ordinary basketball is thrown into the air, and it is the aim to keep the ball in the air at the same time taking it down the field and across the goal of the opposing team. No one is allowed to carry the ball, but instead it must be kept in the air. Should the ball touch the ground the official in charge will again toss it into the air such as in a game of basketball.

Coach Kahn will be on the field and will take charge of the game. It is hoped that there will be a large turnout of the high school students to participate.

MANNINGTON VS. MONTANA.
Mannington will play Montana at Montana Sunday afternoon, according to an announcement made yesterday. Montana and Mannington have each played very few games this season. Last Sunday Mannington was defeated at Carolina.

They Will Be Presented at Chapel Exercises Friday of This Week.

Basketball, football and track letters will be presented to the High school athletes at the final chapel exercises of the year to be held at the High school auditorium Friday morning of this week. The letter to be presented for football is a large block letter "F" that for track is a smaller block letter "F" and that for the basketball players is an old English "F."

Many persons in recent weeks have gone in automobiles and finding the mud hole at the entrance had to turn and come back. The road has now been put into condition and automobiles may now enter the park.

Mountaineers Are Apprehensive of King

MORGANTOWN, June 4.—The prospect of having to face Ches King, the star hurler of the Wheeling professional team here on Friday of this week is not causing West Virginia's heavy hitters to rest any easier at night because they have already tasted some of the samples of this youngster and have a wholesome respect for his work.

It was just seven weeks ago here that King turned the "Varsity swaters" back and won for his team by the score of 4-2 and it has not been forgotten especially since it marks the only defeat of the Mountaineers at home this year.

King walked but one man, hit nobody and struck out only five, an all-round performance that speaks for itself.

Naturally King is respected here and West Virginia players are anticipating the toughest engagement of the whole year on Friday when the former Toledo "Ball Light" hurler appears here for the second time this season. Hitting practice has been emphasized this week.
